OAKLAND'S NEW HOTEL.

Good news for the community is contained in the announcement that at last Oakland is to have a large hotel, one that will be the peer of any on the Pacific Coast. We have long felt the necessity of such an enterprise, but capitalists and hotel men have hesitated to engage. In it, doubtless, by the fact that Oakland is known as a city of homes and would therefore not presumably be well adapted for places of public residences. This view of the subject has, however, been completely upset of late, for the success of the Hotel, Metropole and other places constructed on a first-class basis shows that the business is here and that outside of local patronage there are vast opportunities as regards transient travel and visitors from the East and other parts of the country.

A hotel such as the one now planned will assuredly be a success, for it will receive much of the business upon which San Francisco now has a monopoly, and furthermore, would be used as a permanent place of residence by many San Francisco people who like hotel life and who do not dwell on this side of the bay because they do not care to fit up and establish homes. All of this will mean loss of business to the community, but the direct benefits from that source will be small compared with the collateral advantages. For example, the fact that Oakland has a hotel as good as any on the Pacific Coast will be a big advertisement to the city, especially in the East at seasons when the tourist travel is preparing to head this way. The attention will be directed to this particular part of the State, and then when the visitors arrive and make Oakland their headquarters we will receive the many advantages that attend the pilgrimages to the west. Los Angeles owes its present prosperity to having interested the capitalists and health seekers who stopped over there as part of the itinerary of the Raymond and Whitehead excursions and no one can question the fact that we can more than duplicate the attractions they had to offer. The new hotel will in truth be more advantageous to us than any other enterprise that could be established here and the energy and progressiveness of the local capitalists who are about to engage in it should be noted and endorsed in every possible way.

"SPIRIT MEDIUM" FRAUDS.

The dismal failure of the so-called spirit mediums to locate the wreck of the Rio despite their alleged occult powers and the communications they claimed to have received from the shade of Captain Ward should put a black eyer on the flourishing industry they have built up in this part of the country. Unfortunately, though, it is not likely that such good results will come, for in the past, though these fakes have been exposed time and time again, they have always successfully rallied and by simply presenting their case in a new phase have either held on to their former dupes or secured a crop of new ones.

While the higher grade of this spirit culture when it branches into theosophy and ordains the utmost purity of life in order to be in perfect communion with nature, has some commendable features, not one point can be raised in defense of the shallow tricksters who ply their vocation by means of darkened rooms, double cabinets, table-rapping, slate-writing and other such devices. It is at least marvellous to those who personate them and believe in them to say that they are of an inferior mental caliber, for it is not possible that a person of sound intellect and acquainted with the ways of the world could be imposed upon by such hollow knavery.

The fact that during the trial of a case in San Francisco some time ago it was shown that the income of one of these test mediums averaged over $500 a week proves what a rich harvest they are reaping here and suggests that there should be some protection accorded to the public in this regard so as to put a stop to the wholesale deceiving of the credulous. In some ways it is a pity that the old blue law of ducking witches has passed out of fashion, for a crusade conducted upon these lines nowadays would be likely to put an effective damper upon the business. We must work, though, with the tools left in our possession, and it might be a good idea to proceed upon the basis that these sharks are "obtaining money under false pretenses," as they certainly are.

The administration is said to be in a quandary as to what to do with Aguinaldo. One point should be decided settled, however—he should not be permitted to remain in the islands, for he would always be a dangerous factor there and would simply await an opportunity to break out again. He gave Spain a dose of that sort of thing and Uncle Sam doesn't want any of the same kind of medicine.

Aguinaldo is said to owe his betrayal to a few cigars. His ambitions ended in smoke all right.

SO RUNS MY DREAM.

O yet we trust that somehow good Will be the final goal of ill, To pang of nature, sins of will, Defects of doubt and taints of blood;

That nothing walks with aimless feet; That not one life shall be destroy'd, Or cast as rubbish to the void, When God hath made the pile complete;

That not a worm is cloven in vain; That not a moth with vain desire Is shrivel'd in a fruitless fire, Or but subserves another's gain.

Behold we trust not anything; I can but trust that good shall fall At last—far off—at last, to all, And every winter change to spring.

So runs my dream; but what am I? An infant crying in the night; An infant crying for the light; And with no language but a cry.

—Tennyson.

RECRUITS DESERT BECAUSE THEY FEAR PHILIPPINE WAR IS OVER.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, April 12.—A special to the Tribune from Leavenworth, Kan., says:

Over 150 newly enlisted soldiers of the Fourteenth Cavalry regiment, recruiting here, have deserted. The only reason assigned is they were disappointed, believing that since Aguinaldo had been captured the new regiment would not be sent to the Philippines on account of the termination of the war.

The missing soldiers are nearly all young recruits and were from all companies of the regiment, which numbers about 500 men. Yesterday was their pay-day, and the deserters came to the city. A number purchased tickets to nearby towns and it was learned several passed through St. Joseph, Mo. A detachment of regulars has been sent to bring them back. It is said the officers will promise not to try the recruits for desertion if they return within ten days. The exact number of the men missing is not known, but it is known to be in the neighborhood of 150.

Telegrams have been sent in every direction to locate the missing men. It is believed all of them will be found and returned to the post.

GOVERNMENT TESTS OF A NEW GUN GIVE REMARKABLE RESULTS.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Remarkable results have been attained with the latest model 5-inch gun, the test of which is in progress at the Indian Head proving grounds, according to dispatches from Washington. Rear Admiral O'Neill, Chief of Ordnance, has been informed by Lieutenant Strauss, in charge of the proving grounds, that the gun had developed a maximum velocity of 3,300 feet a second, with less than seventeen tons pressure.

This velocity was given to a fifty-pound projectile. The great superiority of the new weapons over the five-inch guns on the Keokuk will be understood when it is known that the maximum velocity attained with a fifty-pound projectile fired by the latter is 2,550 feet a second. With a sixty-pound shell a velocity of 2,900 feet a second has been attained with the latest model. The muzzle energy obtained was 3,721 foot tons. In the recent trials with the fifty-pound projectile a muzzle energy of 3,393 foot tons was obtained. Rear-Admiral O'Neill has determined to use the sixty-pound projectile.

SEATTLE TO HAVE A NEW LINE OF STEAMERS TO THE ORIENT.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12.—Lyman C. Smith, the millionaire Syracuse (N. Y.) typewriter manufacturer, is the head of a syndicate of Eastern capitalists who have closed a deal for the purchase of a number of steamships on the Atlantic coast which are to be used in the Oriental and Pacific coast trade, with Seattle as the home port. The syndicate proposes to build in its own shipyards in this city a number of sailing vessels suitable for the lumber trade to the Pacific Coast and China, the Hawaiian Islands and Australia. In the enterprise, it is stated, $1,000,000 will be immediately invested and enough additional capital placed to insure the success of the syndicate's operations on a very large scale.

J. W. Clise, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is the Seattle representative of the syndicate.

WASHINGTON ASSASSIN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune.

Green shot through a window and killed Benjamin while the latter was sitting in a bathroom beside Mrs. Nellie Brown, to whom Green was at one time engaged to be married.

THE YOSEMITE SEASON OPENS.

California's Wonderland More Fascinating Than Ever.

John F. Stevens, who fills with credit to himself and satisfaction to the State of California and tourists in this State the important position of guardian of Yosemite, has written a personal letter to a gentleman in this city in which he formally announces the opening for the season of the great national park and of the details which necessarily attend such an operation. The information will be read with a great deal of interest by those who have been to Yosemite, as also by those who contemplate making a visit there the present season.

Early as the season is, tourists have already made their appearance on the ground. The letter bears date of April 5, and among other things sets forth that J. B. Cook, the capable, painstaking and popular manager of the Sentinel Hotel, arrived with his corps of attendants in the valley for the season on March 27th, and that on the following day the hotel was formally opened. On the day of the opening six tourists, the first of the season, put in their appearance. A few days later twenty-six tourists arrived over the Yosemite Tourist line, and each day thereafter saw a gradual increase in the number of wonder seekers in the park.

George Kenny and John Coffman, the kings of the trail, at the time of writing, had arrived with fifty head of horses for the saddle train, and by this time they have added to the outfit another troop of sure-footed animals such as have always distinguished the mounts in the park. Other concessions have already opened their several places of business.

Mr. Stevens says that the roads and trails in the valley required this year much more than the usual amount of spring working, as a consequence of the heavy and continuous snow storms which have prevailed during the past winter. These storms, however, at the same time guarantee a beautiful supply of water, which will show to the greatest advantage the marvelous waterfalls of the valley.

The three roads through the park are ready for travel, and this is also true of the Vernal, Nevada, Yosemite and Eagle Park trails, each of which was never before in better condition.

Last Wednesday the Big Oak Flat Stage Company opened the season's travel, and a number of tourists were looked to arrive by that line on that day and on succeeding days of the season.

Yosemite this year stands forth unrivaled in beauty and grandeur. It is not too early now to visit the place, but those who contemplate going there should do so as early as possible before the grasses and flowers have lost their verdure and the charm of a waning season rob this paradise of much of its thrilling grandeur.

SUPERB RENDITION OF THE CRUCIFIXION.

Stainer's "Crucifixion" with its beautiful words written by Rev. J. Sparrow Simpson, and the musical setting by John Stainer, was presented at the Church of the Advent, East Oakland, last Friday evening in a way to impress alike the musicians and those who listen with un-enthusiastic ear.

There was something in the sublime "Crucifixion" as the cantata is called, to appeal to every listener, and it has never before been heard in this city with such excellent effect. The chorists were admirably handled, and also the tenor and baritone solo by Mr. Arthur and Mr. Peterson. The duet, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition," was rendered by these two singers with a fervor which surprised even their friends, as the rendering of these songs is extremely difficult. The quartet, "O Lord, So Loved We Thee," was a treat and left a lasting impression upon all who heard it.

It is hoped that the cantata will be repeated in the near future. It was a coincidence that the death of the celebrated composer of the "Crucifixion," Sir John Stainer, the famous organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, at Verona, Italy, came at a time when it was most eagerly expected to check the world. It came in the month of March when his beautiful cantata is sung in hundreds of places of worship throughout the world.

John Stainer died at the age of 65, after a long illness, and the loss of the world's musical melodist on the position of Christ had barely faded away when the death of the man had passed away.

The cantata, "The Crucifixion of Jesus," by the same composer, will be given at the same church in the near future, under the direction of the same conductor, the organist of the Church of the Advent, Frank M. Jones.

"Miss Gussie Fugel, whose picture in costume is here seen, has been engaged to sing the part of Bernarda in 'La Fiesca,' the light opera to be repeated by local talent. But few amateurs have more than a passing acquaintance with the play, and it is a hit at a first appearance as Miss Fugel when she sang March 11 last. Although prominent in musical circles for the past year, she had never been seen in opera in Pueblo until then and was a crowd attraction from the first moment she appeared. Possessed of a melodious soprano of exceptional sweetness and purity which she uses most artistically, she easily secured the most pronounced success of any in the cast. Not only did she sing charmingly, but has a decided talent for acting and met the dramatic requirements of her part in a manner that captivated critics.

She possesses a charm of manner and gracious bearing that have won her a host of admirers and given her a prominent place socially as well as musically. Dame Bernarda as it is that she is to sing in Pueblo is a perfect example of a dramatic actress in a former home in San Francisco."

GUSSIE FUEGEL MAKES A HIT.

Essays Light Opera at Pueblo With Success.

And now a young woman who was formerly a well known resident of Oakland, is winning applause and laurels in her opera in Colorado. Miss Gussie Fugel, at one time the wife of Randolph F. Crist of East Oakland, is the lady in question. Miss Fugel, who was born in this city, Miss Fugel, her father, was for many years in business here. Miss Gussie became a published pianist. She occasionally appears in public entertainments for benefits of an amateur exhibitions. In German-American circles she was especially a favorite.

Presently Miss Fugel has been and she was married to Randolph F. Crist, son of the pioneer tanner of East Oakland. After a couple of years of wedlock the young couple decided that their tastes were not congenial. Mr. Crist was of a very retiring disposition. His wife desired excitement, music, and the theatre. She also longed for a life on the stage. They separated at the end of a year, the wife secured a divorce and resumed her maiden name, Gussie Fugel.

Meanwhile Miss Fugel's father had gone to Colorado and settled at Pueblo. Thence his family shortly followed. Miss Gussie along with her mother and sister. Recently she appeared in an amateur presentation of a light opera, "La Fiesca," the scene of which is laid in Southern California. Speaking of the initial presentation of this opera, the Pueblo Chronicle says:

"Talent of a high order was displayed by a number of local amateurs taking leading parts. First honors fell to Miss Gussie Fugel. Miss Gussie Fugel, who has been a resident of Pueblo, always true and clear, brought forth an encore every time she sang. In the last act, where she appeared in knickerbockers, a familiar reminder of Alice Nelson was remarked. The Denver Daily News, in its issue of April 7, prints a half-page portrait of Miss Gussie Fugel, arranged in the costume of "Bernarda." Accompanying the picture is this favorable mention:

CANDIDATES ARE ALL SAWING WOOD

Work for Next State Election Already Begun.

The Battle Will Rage Around Supreme Justices.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—It may seem a little premature to discuss the make-up of the State ticket that will be presented to the people twenty months from now, but as a matter of fact this is the time when the hardest work is being done by the prospective candidates, for to arrive at the eleventh hour in the political vineyard means in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred going away with an empty basket.

There are so many special features connected with the next election, too, that it becomes singularly interesting. For example, the people are nearly called upon to elect three Supreme Justices at one time, and as on this occasion the chief Justice is also included, that makes it all the more important. Needless to say, all three of the incumbents are candidates for reelection. They will, doubtless, all work together with this object, although there will be a wheel within a wheel for both Harrison and Garretts and the honors of being chief Justice and Chief Justice will be a prize to be won.

As for outside candidates, there will be plenty and to spare. Already a demand is coming up from Los Angeles that that section be served one of the places, and as Deputy Harris from Sacramento, Harrison from San Francisco and Garretts from Woodland, all are therefore Northern men, it looks as if the lower end will have a strong foundation upon which to base its demand.

The far North, too, promises to be heard from by the candidacy of Judge Ed Sweeney of Shasta, while Judge Angeloni of Marin is also getting his political airship ready for a trip. This by no means concludes the list of aspirants, for there is scarcely a section of the State without its candidate, but the names and conditions mentioned are sufficient to show that reelection is not going to be an easy thing by any means for the retiring Justices. At that, the impression prevails that they will get on the ticket again, for in each instance their backing is fully as strong as can be obtained by any outside candidate.

Garretts, for example, will have the Native Sons behind him as a unit, and this factor, added to his prestige of service, makes him look a sure winner both for the nomination and at the polls. Harrison has got the majority of the San Francisco organization to aid him as well as the support of the reform element, while Deputy Harris has such a big personal following that he too will be a mighty hard man for anyone to beat. But for their all coming from practically one section of the State all three could outmatch themselves in a way that would make them well nigh invincible, and it is in the combination and trades that are made between one locality and the other that their chief danger lies.

DEMOCRATIC FIGURING.
While the Democrats are not very hopeful as regards State offices in general, they entertain a different view of matters as to the judicial nominations, for they think that the people do not stray party lines too tightly when it comes to considering candidates for the Supreme bench. They are therefore preparing to trot out some of their best and most popular men for these places, and it must be admitted that some of the prospects are bright.

GROWING CHILDREN.

The Period When the Nervous Activity Is at Its Greatest.

The Home Doctor.

"Against the practice of giving tea and coffee to children, we cannot speak too strongly. Childhood is the period when the nervous activity is at its greatest. The brain is over-busy receiving new impressions. Reflex action, co-ordination of muscles, and the special senses are all under a special course of training.

"The nervous system is pushed to its utmost capacity, and long is the list of victims that follow its over-stimulation. In those little people nothing but harm can come from the use of such cerebral stimulants as tea or coffee. Bad, then, as this practice is, let us as physicians be aggressive in its prohibition.

"Do not be satisfied by answering 'No' when asked as to its use, but let us teach the families with whom we come in contact that such practice is evil. We speak emphatically, because not only among the poor and uneducated, but among the rich, who should know better, this practice is marvelously prevalent."

"Children like a warm beverage for breakfast and it is well for them to have it if the drink is a food and not a drug.
Postum Food Coffee is made to supply a rich nourishing liquid food with a crisp coffee taste, for those who cannot and should not use coffee. Analysis shows it to contain about fourteen per cent of muscle forming elements and 66.1 per cent of energy and fat producing elements, which go to nourish and sustain the delicate nerve centers throughout the body and from which the vital energy proceeds.
The supreme importance of proper food in place of drugs is not generally understood, but the success of child or adult depends largely upon the proper sustenance for the body. Children who depend upon the intelligence of their elders to furnish them with good food deserve our most careful attention and thought upon this subject.

avowedly is, especially so as there are one or two gubernatorial candidates up that way. Then again, Ford lends much strength to the ticket on account of his personal and political affiliations, so all things considered, the chances of his succeeding himself are more in the affirmative than the negative.

OTHER OFFICES.

Controller Calgan is credited with being a candidate for Governor, but as he occupies a similar position preceding the last election, it is possible that he will pursue the same tactics this time that he did then, that is to say, that he will use the strength he gets together for Governor to clinch his nomination as Controller. His nomination is always equivalent to election, so he feels tolerably sure of making Sacramento his headquarters for a long time yet.

There is a possibility that there may be a new name on the ticket next year for Governor. For although J.M. Wright has recovered considerably from his recent severe illness, he is by no means a strong man, and might not be able to endure the ordeal of another campaign. There is some talk that his son, Frank Wright, may try to get the nomination in his stead, but this is scarcely likely, for Frank has made quite a clean-up in all of late and can probably do better on the outside.

State Superintendent of Public Schools Kirk cannot be said to have a very rosy chance to succeed himself. In the first place, that office rarely goes twice to the same man, and secondly he is said to have had trouble with a number of the local school superintendents.
Tuman iteow as State Treasurer is in a problematical position. If the same conditions arise as were in evidence at the last State convention he may make it again, but as the Supreme Justice fights may complicate things somewhat, it looks as if he has a hard fight ahead.

There is no occasion to discuss the State Printership, for as Johnson will be the last of the elective officers, that place on the ticket is marked out altogether for awhile at least.

HATTON.

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF EXTREME CRUELTY

John Schneider, the contractor, has been sued by his wife, Annie Schneider, for a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty.
The couple were married in Chicago about thirty-three years ago and have three grown daughters, two of whom are married, and a son.

In her complaint, Mrs. Schneider recites a series of quarrels and alleged abuse from her husband. On February 14 of this year, she says, her husband choked her and threatened to get his revolver and kill her. Mrs. Schneider says she was forced to flee from her home and seek protection at the home of Mrs. Schuch, three blocks away. Since then she has not returned to her husband.

Mrs. Schneider asks, besides a divorce, that she be awarded all of the community property, consisting chiefly of about $500 of cash, and that she be allowed the custody of her children. It is said that Schneider will oppose the suit and make counter charges of cruelty.

FINE MUSIC AT ST. JOHN'S.

The Easter music at St. John's Church, corner Eleventh and Grove streets, which was so beautifully rendered by the vested choir, will be repeated Sunday morning, the 14th of April. The special request of the orchestra of strings has been recognized for the service, consisting of Messrs. Frank and Joseph Kneidel, first and second violins; Eugene Colby, violin; and H. H. Brown, cello.

The service, as before, will be full choir, orchestra and organ. It is a solemn procession, at the conclusion of which Bishop Turner's Festival To Beum in P. will be sung.

John D. P. Turner, organist and choir-master of the church, will have charge of the music.

HEALTH BOARD CONDEMNS A HOUSE.

At the meeting of the Health Board last night it was decided to protest against the City Council's action in abolishing the office of bacteriologist and chemist, done away with in view of the big fire deficiency. Dr. Hamilton particularly opposed the Council's course. He said that when a physician is doubtful about a case, diphtheria for instance, all he has to do is to call on the aid of the city bacteriologist and the matter could be settled in a few hours, whereas, if the position was done away with, the physician would be forced to wait a long time for private investigation—long, in fact, it might cause the death of the patient. The usual reports were filed.

Dr. Todd reported that a house at 1758 Ninth street is in such unsanitary condition that it is unfit as a domicile and a resolution was adopted condemning the residence.

Assistant Inspector Gemmill was ordered to put up a placard ordering the tenants to leave the house within ten days, unless necessary repairs are made in that time.

On the Diamond.

The Oakland baseball team again defeated the Sacramento nine yesterday by a score of 6 to 2. The Oakland team now stands second in percentage in the League, Los Angeles having the lead. San Francisco is third and Sacramento a poor fourth. Los Angeles defeated San Francisco yesterday by a score of 7 to 6.

SHE FINDS HER RELIEF IN DEATH.

Pathetic Story of Young Girl Who Lost Her Sight.

Stricken blind from fright, and with all hopes of ever regaining her eye sight blasted, Miss Mathilda Krickau, a pretty, sweet-voiced singer, was found dead in bed this morning at the home of her father, Peter Krickau, with whom she resided, and to whom she had been a great comfort, since her mother's death some years ago.

Death had apparently been due to total paralysis. This theory is vouchsafed for by a physician who was summoned to the house this morning, when it was hoped that there might still be a spark of life.

Her life's story is a sad one.

One night about eight years ago, Miss Krickau went into the pantry at her father's home, with a lighted match. When the latter had pretty well burned out she threw it behind her, and her dress ignited. Though the flames were quickly extinguished and she sustained no burns, so great was the fright that seized the young woman that she immediately began losing her eyesight, and in a very short time she became totally blind.

Constantly hopeful that the sight of her large brown eyes might be restored, the unfortunate young woman consulted some of the most noted eye experts of the country, among them Dr. Harvey of San Francisco, and Dr. Howe of Buffalo, N. Y., but all to no avail. The experts expressed the opinion that blindness was a result of consumption of the optic nerve.

In order to definitely determine both the cause of her blindness and of her sudden and unexpected death, an autopsy will be held at 7 o'clock this evening, to be followed by an inquest at the Krickau residence.

Miss Krickau was a young woman of 25 years and possessed a most lovable disposition, a sweet voice, and a gentle manner that endeared her to a host of friends.

She was born in Pennsylvania, and besides her aged father, who is a machinist by occupation, she leaves two sisters, Mrs. John Becker and Louise Krickau, both of this city, and a brother, Albert Krickau, of Pennsylvania.

GOLF CAMES ON THE ADAMS LINKS.

This afternoon the second half of the home and home tournament between teams of six men representing the San Francisco and Oakland Golf Clubs is being played on the Adams Links course. The Oakland representatives are the same as on last Saturday, viz: W. P. Johnson, E. H. Folger, F. E. Stratton, R. M. Fitzgerald, C. P. Hubbard and Arthur Goodall. Last Saturday the San Francisco team placed 22 holes to its credit, but the lead may be a little reduced this afternoon, as the Oaklanders will be on their home links. But the silver trophy will be taken by the team winning two out of three matches over thirty-six holes is almost certain to become the property of the San Francisco Golf Club, which won the first match. The San Francisco team was somewhat changed today. Lansing P. Kollage, captain of the club, returned to San Francisco a few days ago and will probably captain the team. It is possible that John Lawson may not play, while H. D. Pillsbury will probably be included in the team.

FLOODS IN ARKANSAS.

Associated Press Dispatch by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., April 12.—The Arkansas River, at this point has risen five feet and four inches since the rain began a few days ago. GOLD FOUND BUT THIEF MISSING.

Was Probably Stolen By a Member of the Crew.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Olebricks & Co., agents for the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, received a telegram today fully confirming the report from Bremen of the recovery of the gold stolen from the specie room of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. The telegram gives no details beyond the fact that the gold was discovered on the ship by a steward and had been turned over to the agents of the company.

Herman Winter, of Olebricks & Co., said: "Yes, we have found the gold and now to get the thief or thieves. We will make a most searching investigation. It seems clear that whoever took the gold either lacked the opportunity to take it ashore or failed in courage."

The National City Bank, consignor of the stolen gold, was also notified of its recovery.

The finding of the gold on ship creates the impression that some member of the crew was the thief, but the absence of details leaves the matter open.

REVENGES OF TIME.

A fool there was, who toiled for years certain wondrous things to build. No doubts he entertained no fears, And only faith his bosom filled.
There as he labored, people came And watched him ply his busy tool. They made of him their sport and glad And said it was just like a fool.
His plan they called a vision wild, A thing of naught, a rotten reed, The idle day dream of a child.
He labored on and took no heed.

Time passed; the fool grew old and gray.
His form was bent, his eyesight dim; But still he trudged his living day Until at last death called for him.
The years rolled onward, one by one. Forgot that work of simple wit. Until, discerning what was done, A wise man came and finished it.

Tuesday evening when Miss Gaud Goodell of this city was given in marriage to E. Delos Magee. It occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. McMillan, intimate friends of the bride whose parents journeyed from Southern California to attend the nuptials of the daughter. After the singing of the "Promise Me" by Otto Wedemeyer, the bridal party entered the parlors as the Lohengrin Wedding March was played by Miss Arnel. Two little girls, Isabel McMillan and Ennie Lee Storch, preceded the bride and groom. The groom was accompanied by his brother, T. Chester L. Magee of San Diego. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Goodell, father of the bride.

Mr. Magee first met his bride in Los Angeles, where Miss Goodell was teacher in the Girls' High School and Mr. Magee was practicing law with W. J. Hunsaker. The acquaintance quickly ripened into love and an engagement followed. The bride is a handsome and accomplished young woman who has been educated in this city, Portland and Los Angeles, all of whom give in wishing her a happy married life.

The father of the groom is Dr. Thos. L. Magee of San Diego, one of the oldest and best known physicians in Southern California. He is a former member of the pioneer graduation class at Stanford University. For Stanford he went to Cornell, where graduated with honors, entering the medical profession, then the law. He practiced law for some time in the office of W. J. Hunsaker, but later came to San Francisco to take a position with the Bancroft-Lane Publishing Company. At San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Magee will make their home in San Francisco.
